TIPS FOR SAFE RESIDENT BATHING

Resident bathing can lead to a number of potential safety hazards, including back injuries and slips/falls, among others. The Occupational Safety & Health Administration (OSHA) has a number of recommendations designed to help reduce these risks.

Back injuries can be caused during bathing by lifting or moving residents who cannot do so on their own or by the awkward positions caregivers sometimes assume during bathing. To help prevent back injuries, OSHA recommends¹:

- Using shower chairs to eliminate the need to lift residents in and out of the bathtub
- Utilizing gait belts to help residents walk or move with less strain on the caregiver's back
- Using wheelchair scales to weigh residents
- Purchasing mechanical lifting equipment for use with residents who cannot support their own weight

Employers should also ensure that caregivers are trained on proper lifting techniques and how to correctly use machinery and equipment.

Spilled water can lead to slips and falls during bathing. To help prevent fall-related injuries, OSHA recommends¹:

- Keeping floors clean and dry
- Using non-slip mats
- Maintaining good drainage in the bathing area
- Cleaning up spilled water immediately
- Using non-skid waxes and grit-coated flooring surfaces
- Wearing waterproof footwear

Professional Medical stocks a complete line of bathing safety products. Our knowledgeable team will be happy to help you create a comprehensive safe bathing program at your facility.
